POOR MT. OLIVET.

FIERCE FLAMES IN OUR NEIGHBORING VILLAGE.

At Half Past Two This Morning It Started, but When It Will End Is Different—Over One-fourth of the Town Destroyed.

News reached the city this morning that Mt. Olivet was burning very fast, that a blaze had got a big start and was beyond control.

Poor Mt. Olivet!

It was a very pretty little country village and to think that just in the budding of the new year it should be rendered to ashes!

The telephone connections between Maysville and that place has been cut off from some cause and THE LEADER was unable to get as many particulars of the fire as it would like.

From what could be learned the facts are as follows:

About half past 2 o'clock this morning a small blaze was noticed in the rear of Sparks's Hotel. It was apparently small and insignificant and it was not a great excitement that was caused by the alarm.

But pretty soon the fire began to spread to the new house of P. W. Wheeler and then to Liville's store, part of E. M. Newmann's store, part of the new M. E. Church and several other houses in the immediate vicinity.

The wind was high, the night was severely cold, and while the houses and buildings burned like paper, the citizens were almost rendered helpless by the exceedingly cold night.

Water would freeze on the buildings only to be melted away by the fierce flames that swept slowly about.

At 8 o'clock this morning about one-fourth of the town in value was reduced to ashes, and the fire had not by any means become under control.

As stated the telephone service between this city and Mt. Olivet has been broken down and all the news that could be gleaned came via Sardinia.

Later—Telephone connections have been made and the following particulars were learned:

Buildings destroyed—Sparks's Hotel, Revel's store, Liville's store, Old Bank building, P. W. Wheeler's store, French & Chandler's store, J. R. Liville's place and the old M. E. Church was badly damaged.

Total loss about $25,000. Insurance only $3,000.

All new buildings same territory having been destroyed by fire in 1889.

Considerable damage was caused in removing goods.

Fire at 9:30 this morning almost out. Fully under control.

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

St. Paul's, the largest Episcopal Church in Louisville, was destroyed by fire. Loss $100,000.

P. J. MURPHY, Successor to Hopper & Murphy.

THE Grand Jury at Mt. Sterling returned indictments against William Mitchell, C. M. Grubbs and Mrs. Laura Beat, respectively, President, Cashier and Chief Clerk of the New Farmers' Bank of that city, which closed its doors July 27th, 1894. The indictment charges the parties with receiving deposits after they knew the bank to be insolvent.

Mrs. McCarthy Dead.
Mrs. Kate McCarthy, wife of M. J. McCarthy, one of the proprietors of The Evening Bulletin, whose serious illness has been noticed in THE LEADER, died at an early hour this morning.

Deceased was a daughter of John Kane. She was a woman of lovely character and numbered friends by scores. Besides a devoted husband, she leaves four children to mourn their loss.

THE LEADER tenders its condolence to its bereaved confere, and its sympathies to the afflicted family and friends.

THE FACTS PRESENTED
In a Clean and Concise Manner by a Disinterested Party.

Yesterday's mail brought a letter to this city from a prominent law firm in Kansas City, Mo., to friends in this city which shows pretty plainly how Bishop McNamara and his wife are situated in that city.

The letter is a lengthy one, and the part with THE LEADER takes pleasure in publishing only shows the condition of things.

Kansas City is only one of many cities in this enlightened country whose officers are Catholics and whose actions and works are certainly to the contrary of those of American citizenship and feeling.

When we can rid ourselves of such a set of officers, when we can get justice, whether Protestants or Catholics, then will the A. P. A. have accomplished its purpose, and its end will be welcomed by every American citizen and loyal man to the Stars and Stripes with a feeling of gladness and prosperity.

Here is the letter. It is not written from a prejudiced person, but one who only writes from a practical standpoint, and not from one of personal feeling:

Question: Bishop J. V. McNamara is charged here with selling obscene literature, ('Confessions of a Nun' and of standing certain Priests and Nuns of this city, flourishing a dangerous and deadly weapon, inciting to riot, and various other crimes and misdemeanors against the peace and dignity of the state of Missouri. He and his wife barely escaped death by a mob here last week. He is now in the County Jail, and we are afraid to bail him out for the reason that the bloodthirsty mob here are waiting for his life.

The whole legal machinery in this city is in the hands of the Catholics; that is the Justices of the Peace, Constables, Marshal and Sheriff are of this class. Every possible effort will be made to convict. They are desperate and wholly unscrupulous.

I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup." Twenty-five and fifty cent bottles for sale by John J. Reynolds, Druggist.

OUR CHURCH COLUMN.

A RESUME OF THE WEEK—WHAT WILL TAKE PLACE SUNDAY.

A Few Opinions Expressed by "The Tramp" and a Few by the Ministers—Singing at Revival Services.

There has been some excellent music furnished at Mitchell's Chapel during the past week at the revival services.

"The Tramp" has attended the church several nights with a view of noticing the improvement in singing and what difference a cornet made with the singing of the congregation.

Professor Fogg is certainly a wonderful cornetist, and on Thursday evening he rendered a most beautiful solo entitled, "Mother Comes to Me in Dreams." It was played with deep expression, and most marked impression on the listeners.

In singing, when Professor Fogg accompanies with his cornet, the congregation all join in and are not afraid to open their mouths, but just as soon as the cornet stops the congregation began to sing one by one, as if they were afraid of being heard.

There is a passage of Scripture which starts off something like this: "Let your light shine," etc.

Certainly this passage was meant for singing. Sing out the praises of God, and if that is all you can do, do that. If you have a voice let everybody know it. The Lord has given us voices to use in singing His praises, and those who can and do not are only breaking one of the commandments of God.

The past week has been an unusually quiet one in the churches, and it is a safe assertion that there is not a town of the size of Maysville in this "neck of the woods," with the churches we have here, but what are holding more protracted meeting than what they are in this city.

Only two meetings of importance have been held the past week, and they have been at the Christian Church and Mitchell's Chapel, M. E. Church, in the Sixth Ward. Good crowds have been present almost every evening, and the attention paid to the Ministers is something wonderful.

And why is this? Easy enough to answer. The churchgoers are not so numerous as they were some time ago, and it is a winter that would go by without a protracted meeting would surpass a summer without sunshine. Too long has it been a custom to stop now.

On the long dreary evenings of the winter months, while society is doing its greatest work, while the saloons offer no inducements for the young men, the church of God should not be idle by any means, but up and going.

Let the church be considered opposition to the dancing schools, to the saloons and gambling dens, and good will be done. You can't expect a man to burn himself to kindle it; neither can you expect to get good work out of your church members unless you revive in them the spirit of God and the Holy Ghost.

In the last few weeks 157 persons have united with the churches at Williamsburg.

The Baptist Church at Winchester has extended a call to Rev. Joseph Felix of Lynchburg, Va.

The Baptist Church at Augusta has employed Rev. Burgess to preach there two Sundays in each month, instead of one as heretofore.

The Carlisle Mercury says: "Bracken Board met with the Baptist Church yesterday morning. Sermon at 11 o'clock by Rev. R. G. Patrick of Maysville."

The handsome new Methodist Church at Danville was formally opened last Sunday. The attendance at both the morning and evening services tested the capacity of the house.

The services of the first annual communion of the Flemingsburg Presbyterian Church for the present year will be held to-morrow at 11 a. m. Preparatory service to be held at 11 a. m.

The singing at Mitchell's Chapel was greatly strengthened by the choir from the Second Street M. E. Church this week. Those present from that choir were Misses Sally Burrows, Lizzie Sadler, Fannie Bramel and Bertha Daulton.

The Second Quarterly Meeting of the Aberdeen Circuit will be held there to-day and to-morrow. Quarterly conference at 2 p. m. to-day. Preaching to-night by Rev. J. W. Mason, Presiding Elder, and at 10 a. m. Sunday, followed by the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Preaching to-morrow evening.

Rev. William L. McEvan of the Webster Grove, Mo., Presbyterian Church, has accepted a salary of $2,000 a year, declined two calls, one at a salary of $4,500 a year and the other at $5,000 a year, both unanimously tendered by wealthy city churches. He says that his work at Webster Grove needs him more than he needs the money.

The usual services will be conducted to-morrow at the M. E. Church, South, by Rev. T. W. Watson, Pastor. Subject of the morning discourse, "Study of the Scriptures." Evening, "The Parable of the Prodigal Son."

The revival at Mitchell's Chapel is increasing in interest. One conversion last night. Convicting power was manifest in the audience. Let every Christian in Maysville pray that God may save East Maysville. Don't forget Children's Service at 3 p. m.

Just one week from to-morrow the Union Meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of this city will be held at the Presbyterian Church. The program has been completely arranged and the meeting is promised to be a most enjoyable one.

The usual services will be held at the Central Presbyterian Church morning and evening, starting at 9 a. m. and 7 p. m. by the Pastor, Rev. W. O. Cochran. Sunday-school at 9 a. m. and Christian Endeavor meets at 6 p. m. All invited to these services and made welcome.

The meeting at the M. E. Church at Aberdeen are still in progress. The membership is awakened to a full sense of duty, and much good is being done, every evening adding to the success. There have been several additions already. Rev. Williamson deserves much praise for his untiring interest of the church and people. All should take an interest in this laudable work, and assist the Pastor to the extent of their ability.

The Disciples of Christ meet for worship and the proclamation of the gospel to-morrow at 10:45 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:15 p. m. Morning theme, "Jesus the Christ a Great Preacher!" Wherein Was He a Great Preacher? Night theme, "Jesus the Christ's Object as a Great Preacher." You are invited to worship with us and to hear the message we bring you. We have aired it, disinfected it, and shook the mold of human inventions from it and present it as reported by eye and ear witnesses.

The cold snap causes many people to hunt warm cheerful places in which to pass time for which there is no set occasion. Sunday afternoon becomes to most boys and men dull, weary and monotonous. Now, there is no fault with that; it lies with the grumble. Come to the Y. M. C. A. Room and you will quickly see how pleasantly and profitably you can pass the time. Lots of good reading matter, warm room and comfortable seats, and above all, you are cordially welcomed. At 3 o'clock the Men's Meeting is held and you can help sing and enjoy friendly exchange of thought. Subject, "Parable of the Sower." Come out.

GEORGE RAYSON, who shot John Loveless in Danville Christmas and escaped, making the wife of Loveless a widow, has been captured in Louisville and taken there for trial.

PICK YOUR MAN.
And Then Bet Your Money Accordingly to Win or Lose.

If the Duval Club of Jacksonville can have a fight—why can't we have one? That was a question that presented itself to a number of the sporting inclined men of the city and they arranged a fight to take place Sunday morning, February 10th, at 10 o'clock on the sand bar just below Aberdeen.

And they have assurances from Yes-Bo-Ro, Mayor of the Ohio river, that he will not release any of his Siberian blood hounds on that day, order out the militia or even allow his photograph to be published in the daily papers.

It was certainly a very evident fact that Governor Mitchell as a last resort to stop the Corbett-Mitchell fight published his picture.

Even Nature wept and shed tears when that awful picture came out, and the first cold weather of the season was brought on.

But wait until you hear about the fight that we are going to have.

Rosecrans Gunnsel is 5 feet 2 1/2 inches in height and weighs 185 pounds.

Henry Dinger, better known as "Foot," stands 6 feet and 1 1/2 inch in his stocking feet and balances the scales at 193 pounds.

Well these are the two men that will come together, Marked Lee Goodenough to govern, for a purse of $300 in street improvement bonds.

Tickets are now selling for the fight at 50 cents each and everything will be done to make the fight a success.

Both men have good records as local pugilists and the fight will only promise to be one with even honors, but will in all probability be a hard fought one.

MADE HIM WELL. PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND WAS A BLESSING.

Andrew Ennis of Wallingford Had Been Sick for Years—Five Bottles of the Great Remedy
Cured Him.

"I have been troubled with rheumatism in my back and dyspepsia for many years, and I have taken five bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, and I now feel entirely well, and can sit down and eat a hearty meal without and bad feelings afterward. I had tried many different kinds of medicine, but they did me little good. Paine's Celery Compound has been a great blessing to me."

So writes Andrew Ennis of Wallingford, Ct., whose portrait is here given.

To endure pain and submit to weakness, accounting them inevitable to old and middle age, is a sin against Nature's plan. When the blood has grown sluggish and impure, and the nervous system is diseased, Paine's Celery Compound will repair the damage.

The medical journals have the names and addressed and full histories of hundreds of cases of chronic and acute rheumatism that have permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound. No other remedy has cured like obstinate cases of Bright's disease and liver troubles. Where all others have failed, this marvelous blood purifier and true never tonic has made people well.

Of all the achievements of medical science, this means of restoring healthy action to the nerves and important organs of the body stands pre-eminent.

WILSON BILL REFORM.
An Expert Opinion on the Free Coal Question.

Washington, Dec. 11.—M. E. Ingalls, the well known railroad magnate, has just made a notable contribution to the controversy over the proposed reform of the Tariff as advocated by the Ways and Means Committee of the House. In a speech delivered on Jackson Day in response to the toast, "The Democratic National Platform of 1892," he discussed the Wilson Bill with singular and significant force, and upon one aspect of that bill he spoke so strongly and with such authority that he here reproduce his words for public information:

"You will hear it said that I am interested in coal, and hence that is one of my reasons for objecting to this Tariff. I am interested in coal, but only as the President of several railway corporations, a large part of whose business is in the transportation of this article. They had upon their pay rolls 35,000 names, and each and every one of these are interested to know why (when the Government needs revenues) coal, which has paid a large amount and with injury to no one, should be made free, while the goods which the coal producers use are still taxed. I say we had 35,000 names, for the depressed business has forced us to discharge one-fifth of them, and they have gone to swell the great army of cold and hungry unemployed that fill our streets—the saddest sight there is in the world, men hungry and willing to work for bread, but no work to be had. I am interested, I repeat, for if this bill passes, with its free coal and free ore, more of these faithful employees will have to go. Like John H. Inman, whose utterances on this subject we quoted a few days ago, Mr. Ingalls is a practical man of affairs. He deals with facts and conditions, not with theories or doctrines. He knows what the actual effect of free coal will be upon the laboring class. He does not waste time in considering its decorative effect in connection with experimental statesmanship, but looks at it with sole reference to its place in the equation of events. Mr. Ingalls is at the head of great railroad enterprises which employ thousands of men and upon whose successful operation a vast multitude of human beings depend for the everyday necessities of life. He is no brooding doctrinaire, no dreamer of dreams, no visionary lost in glittering abstractions. He is in the forefront of the battle of real things. He deals with living facts and points of vital conclusions and results.

Free coal means the mental gratification of a few well meaning theorists. It means also the bereavement and distress of a hundred thousand American workmen. It means the crippling of railroads by the score, the overpopulation of the poorhouse, the hospital and the prison, the deepening of industrial stagnation, and the multiplication of the prevalent poverty. Mr. Ingalls knows all this because his part is in the sphere of human action, and he tells us in order that we may be warned in time.

The first colored applicants for teachers in the county schools were examined in this state were examined in Lexington yesterday by Professor Cass day. There were twelve of them, and seven were given certificates.

By MATTHEW G. LEWIS, (MONK LEWIS).
Mr. Lewis was a member of the British Parliament, and his book became so popular in England, that it gained for him the title of "Monk Lewis."

It is a fine piece of classic composition, and after being out of print for many years it has been republished from the original text.

It is far superior to "Marie Monk" and books of that character.
